JANESVILLE, WISCONSIN, TUESDAY, JUNE 30, 1863.

SHEEP SALES.—The demand for good sheep seems to be unusually brisk. The Middlebury Register gives the following list of sales, which have come to its knowllist of sales, which have come to its knowledge recently:

John Foster, of Guernsey county, Ohio, recently shipped seventy-three ewes and three rams, for which he paid $6,450. C.D. Lane sold thirty three ewes and one buck to John Foster for $3,000. He bought of S. S. Rockwell, of Cornwall, 18 ewes for ceremonies. $1,400; of Prosper Elithrop six ewe lambs tor $600; of S. Andrus seven ewes for $550; of F. H. Dean tour ewes for $300; of H. Gifford one ram for $300. He offered S. S. Rockwell $1,000 for a ram, which was relused, and a similar offer to W. D. Sanford, which was refused. Edgar Sanford sold to Mr. Manholm, of Ohio, six yearling ewes for $1,200, also seventeen, the balance of his yearling ewes, to Wood, Holmes & Singer, of Ohio, for $1,300, making $2,500 for twenty-three yearing ewes. Henry Hammond sold six ewes for $2,000. The name of the purchaser we do not recollect. Samuel James sold a ram to J. Sheldon, of Fairfield, Vt., for $690.

These sales, the Register says, were all made quite recently in Addison county, and a good many more of the same sort. There is a large home demand for first class sheep, and a large number of small flocks have been started.

Mr. Jesse Hinds, of Brandon, recently sold and delivered to C. D. Sweet, of North Bennington, twenty-six two-year old and four yearling ewes, in all thirty sheep, for the snug little sum of three thousand dol-

It is stated that Edwin Hammond, president of the Vermont State Agricultural Society, was offered twenty thousand dollars for fifty of his best sheep last weekfour hundred dollars apiece for fifty sheep -aid the offer was declined. - Bennington (Vt.) Times.

Wool Raising .- As a notable example of the profits of wool raising, we would state that yesterday Judge Grant sold part of his chip for this season for over thirteen hundred dollars, and at least two thirds of this eum was clear profit. Joseph Shields, Esq., was the purchaser. - Davenport (lowa) Democrat, 26th.

PHILADLPHIA AND THE DEFENSE OF Pennsylvania.—The Philadelphia Press says: " According to the statement of Col. Ruff, only 1,179 men have left Philadelphia for the defense of the state. This number is exceedingly small, and reflects no great credit upon our city. Of course we have Hosiery, Gloves & Embroideries still one or two regiments forming for the will be found the largest and most comprehensive in is all that has yet been mustered for the six months service, but the above number the state. Ladies will here find a full line of hand made Tatting, all widths, Collerotte a La Eugene, Boi emergency. It is really mortifying that this number should be so small."

In the recent raid on Mayaville, Ky., the rebels captured and paroled the chivalrous Captain Southerland of the ram Queen of the West notoriety, while his better halfthe secession widow of Mississippi, of whom our readers have already been told-waved her handkerchief for Jeff. Davis and his Chicago to Buffulo, ... horse-thicving followers.

The meeting of the Pennsylvania republican state convention, which was to have been held on the 1st of July, at Pittsburg, will probably be postponed. The condition of affairs in the state at the present time would warrant such a course. Gen. Couch declines to grant furloughs to the delegates now in the service in his department.

The "First National Bank of Davenport," Iowa, has been organized under the new law of congress, by the election of Austin Corbin, president, and Ira M. Gif ford, cashier. Capital $100,000, all of which has been subscribed. The institution is to commence operations next Mon

SHEEP SALES .- The demand for good sheep seems to be unusually brisk. The Middlebury Register gives the following list of sales, which have come to its knowledge recently:

John Foster, of Guernsey county, Ohio, recently shipped seventy-three ewes and three rams, for which he paid $6,450. C. D. Lane sold thirty three ewes and one buck to John Foster for $3,000. He bought of S. S. Rockwell, of Cornwall, 18 ewes for $1,400; of Prosper Elithrop six ewe lambs tor $600; of S. Andrus seven ewes for $550; of F. H. Dean tour ewes for $300; of H. Gifford one ram for $300. He offered S. S. Rockwell $1,000 for a ram, which was relused, and a similar offer to W. D. Sanford, which was refused. Edgar Sanford sold to Mr. Manholm, of Ohio, six yearling ewes for $1,200, also seventeen, the balance of his yearling ewes, to Wood, Holmes & Singer, of Ohio, for $1,300, make ing $2,500 for twenty-three yearing ewes. Henry Hammond sold six ewes for $2,000 The name of the purchaser we do not recollect. Samuel James sold a ram to J. Sneldon, of Fairfield, Vt., for $690.

These sales, the Register says, were all made quite recently in Addison county, and s good many more of the same sort. There s a large home demand for first class sheep, and a large number of small flocks have been started.

Mr. Jesse Hinds, of Brandon, recently sold and delivered to C. D. Sweet, of North Bennington, twenty-six two-year old and four yearling ewes, in all thirty sheep, for the snug little sum of three thousand dol-

It is stated that Edwin Hammond, president of the Vermont State Agricultural Society, was offered twenty thousand dol-lars for fifty of his best sheep last week-four hundred dollars apiece for fifty cheep —and the offer was declined.—Bennington (Vt.) Times.

Wood RAISING, - As a notable example of the profits of wool raising, we would state that yesterday Judge Grant sold part of his clip for this season for over thirteen hundred dollars, and at least two thirds of this aum was clear profit. Joseph Shields, Esq., was the purchaser.—Davenport (Iowa) Democrat, 26th.

PHILADEPHIA AND THE DEFENSE OF PENNSYLVANIA.—The Philadelphia Press says: "According to the statement of Col. Ruff, only 1,179 men have left Philadelphia for the defeuse of the state. This number is exceedingly small, and reflects no great credit upon our city. Of course we have still one or two regiments forming for the six months service, but the above number is all that has yet been mustered for the emergency. It is really mortifying that this number should be so small."

In the recent raid on Mayaville, Ky., the rebels captured and paroled the chivalrous Captain Southerland of the ram Queen of the West notoriety, while his better halfthe secession widow of Mississippi, of whom our readers have already been told-waved her handkerchief for Jeff. Davis and his horse-thieving followers.

The meeting of the Pennsylvania republican state convention, which was to have been held on the 1st of July, at Pittsburg, will probably be postponed. The condition of affairs in the state at the present time would warrant such a course. Gen. Couch declines to grant furloughs to the delegates now in the service in his department.

The "First National Bank of Davenport," Iowa, has been organized under the new law of congress, by the election of Austin Corbin, president, and Ira M. Gif ford, cashier. Capital $100,000, all of which has been subscribed. The institution is to commence operations next Mon

Gen. Rosecrans Advancing.

Gen. Rosecrans has made a brillian movement forward towards the rebel stronghold. His headquarters are at Manchester, thirty-five miles east of Tullahoma. It looks more like flanking Bragg than attacking him in his fortified position.

Port Hudson.

The reported capture of Port Hudson has not been confirmed to-day. It is probably untrue. If, as reported, Com. Farragut had communicated the intelligence to Gen. Grant, it would have been given to the public officially, before this time.

The Rebel Invasion.

There is very little light to-day upon mil itary movements in Pennsylvania and Ma ryland. It is thought by some that a battle is imminent at Harrisburg. Others are of the opinion that the rebels are withdrawing in the direction of Baltimore. This is not improbable. They must develope their designs very soon. They have made a bold and desperate movement, and will not lag in its execution if they hope for any success; to back out now, would be sure destruction, if there is any vigor displayed on our part. The great battle will be fought in Maryland.

The New Commander.

Notwithstanding Gen. Meade, the new commander on the Potomac, is unknown to the country generally, he is reputed to have a creditable history. Previous to his recent promotion he has been in command of the 5th army corps, and was in command under Burnside and Hooker at both the unsuccessful attempts that have been made

George C. Meade is a Spaniard by nativity, but an American by education. He was born in Spain in 1816, and is therefore 47 years of age. He is a military man by profession. He entered the military academy at West Point, from the District of Columbia, and graduated in 1835, standing 19 in his class, and was especially meritorious in artillery. After graduating, he was appointed a second lieutenant in the third regular artillery, which commission he resigned in 1836; was subsequently appointed second lieutenant in the topographical engineers. He served through the Mexican war, and was breveted first lieutenant for gallantry at Montery, in August, 1846; became first lieutenant of the regulars in 1851; was promoted captain in 1856, and had command of the western lake survey at the time the rebellion broke out, being then stationed at Detroit. He was transferred to the army, and in June, 1862, was promoted to major, and in the August following was commissioned a brigadier general of volunteers, and assigned to the command of a brigade in McCall's division of Pennsylvania reserves in the army of the Potomac. Subsequently he took command of a division in Reynold's army corps. He was severely wounded at the battle of White Oak Swamp, on the Virginia Peninsula, June 30th, 1862. For his great gallantry, he was then promoted a major general, and on his recovering from his wound, was assigned to the command of the 5th army corps of the army of the Potomac, which position he has filled with great efficiency, as he had all the positions he had held previ-

It is noticeable that the McClellan papers are satisfied with his appointment, and that the army of the Potomac, (that is the officers,) have confidence in him. We hope he may prove competent and energetic, for never did as army stand more in need

It appears that his 7,000 troops were attacked he fought bravely as long as there was hope, and only erred in not retreating sooner. not knowing that Ewell had left the Rappahannock for the Shenandoah valley with on overwhelming force, nor for the want of necessary support in his rear. Somebody ought to have warned him from Washington of his danger, since the only means of knowing it was there, and he was in telegraphic communication with the war department. It is quite probable that the blunder was not Milroy's, but he has been made the scape gont of other men's inefficiencies. Time will show who is respon-

Battery and the 19th Illinois cavalry, to move from Young's Foint and occupy the neck of land in front of the doomed city. This movement was executed on Tuesday morning. At the same time the gunboats above and below were ordered to close in nearer and remain there, so that escape by that method became an impossibility.

Soldiers' Aid Society in Richmond, Wisconsin.

Messrs. Editors :- We are not in the habit of often introducing the name of our town in public print; or of intruding every ing in this town, for the purpose of raising means to purchase sanitary supplies for the soldiers, in which Johnstown comes in for about an equal share of the credit of the occasion, I thought I would give a short | twenty-two shots; one in the boiler disables account of the doings of the Soldiers' Aid on the 9th day of January, last, and we hope the good people of Johnstown will speak for themselves, and if they have done more than the people of this town, so much the better for the good cause: but we do not like to see the credit which belongs to us, given publicly to others, neither do we ourselves want that which belongs to them. On referring to the subscription paper I find that our friends from Johnstown contributed five dollars of the one hundred were but few present from that town, but those few gave liberally. They came on invitation from the aid society of this town, and I believe that five out of six of those account of our society which I prosposed

The society then remained inactive a few weeks, but soon the hard fought bettles of Gen. Grant, in marching to the rear of Vicksburg, and the repeated calls of the sanitary commision, told us that our fathto capture Fredericksburg. The Chicago ers, sons, husbands and brothers lay wounded and dying on the field of battle, that they I train consisted of a part of Fitz Hugh Lee's were in need of sanitary supplies, that the sanitary commission had emptied their ware-houses to supply the immediate wants at Accalink, ten miles from Alexander.

> That we might continue to render aid to the suffering soldier, the president called a meeting of the society at the house of Mr. Arnold on the seventeenth day of June. The day was an auspicious one, being just warm enough to be comfortable out of doors, the sun being obscured by a thin haze,-a regular picnic day. The gather ing consisted of about one hundred and forty persons. A few of the more patriotic people of Johnstown and Darien cheered us by their presence and their contributions.

The ladies spread a bountiful table in a grove near the house, which was enjoyed by all present, the black as well as the white, those who have spent the most of their lives in slavery, as well as those who line lately held by the rebels.

After the repast was finished, the meet ing was addressed by Rev. Daniel Smith of this town, Rev. Mr. Warner of Johnstown, and by a colored gentleman, recently from Tennessee, who seems to enjoy and appreciate the blessings of freedom, which until recently he has never known by experience. We were also enlivened by the singing of several patriotic and other songs, accompanied by the sweet tones of the l

Although the people of this town feel generally interested in the welfare of those who peril their lives for their country, and will minister to their wants to the last dollar, there are some, I am sorry to say, who, although abundantly able, seem to be void of any feeling of humanity; who will not lift a finger, or give a dime to alleviate the sufferings of the wounded, sick and the enemy escaped. 1 ... threw away ev dying soldier. Last night the rebels made a sortie on Society in this town, since its foundation the left, and were repulsed with heavy loss. The fire, this morning, is very heavy. The rebel mine in the ground over which we were expected to charge, and which we now hold, has been dug up. The rebels are believed to have constructed an inner line of works, and prepared a space between the outer and inner lines with pit-falls and mines. Our approaches move steadily and surely on.

Gen. Reynolds, at 8 a. m. yesterday, took possession of this place. At 6 p. m. Gen. Granger occupied Shelbyville. The rebels after resistance, evacuated their several positions, and retreated on lines of which fullahoma is the concentration point. Gen. Rosecrans has removed the restric

This movement was begun on the 21th, n the midst of a heavy rain, which has continued ever since, with but slight intermission. The enemy's advance posts were found on all roads leading south, more than nine miles distant from Murfreesboro,

Butler's 1st Kentucky cavalry was driven anidly through Hoover's Gap to Beach Grove, and had not time to place their arillery in unfinished works in the Gap -Iwo companies were cut off and scattered Stewart's division moved from Fairfield, an alarm being given, to Beech Grove, and engaged the head of Thomas' corps, under Col. Wilder. A brisk engagement between Wilder's mounted infantry and Bates rebel brigade ensued, in which the enemy attempted to flank us, but were repulsed by the 17th Indiana with heavy loss. Our loss was 15 killed, and about 50 wounded.

The fight lasted four hours. The rebels had seven gons disabled by Lilly's and Ham's hatteries. The battle ended with night. The rebels are still in possession of Beach Grove and a ridge of hills crossing diagonally the roads to Fairfield and Manchester, and Erving Valley and Garrisons Fork through which our course lay. On Thursday the enemy threw up earthworks and planted Dardien's batter, to rake Hoover's Gap in which Thomas' corps was

Col. Walker, through fear of being flanked by a force apparently moving on his right, but really retreating, failed to move his brigade as far as the Toirfield road, and with blankets and knapsacks. Rosseau pursued them to Fairfield, the enemy re

On Fri day, Rousseau made a flank movement to from their line of retreat. A regular brigade, its major commanding, in the absence of General King, ill at Murfreesboro, had made a rapid and brilliant charge upon Bates' rebel brigade, on the rebels' left wing, driving it in great confusion for half a mile. and causing the rebel right to hastily evacuate Beech Grove and works, retreating in

CHICKASAW BAYOU, June 22, VIA CAIRO, June 29, 1863.

Special to the Tribune .-- I have just returned from a tour of inspection along Sherman and McPherson's front. Sher man is still creeping up to the left. Blair's division is sapping it at three points. Gen. Giles Smith is on the lett, Gen. Ewing a front, and Gen. Lighthurn on the right. In each of these approaches, the same breastworks serve for the rebels and for us. Gen. Brockland, of Tuttle's division, is also approaching very near.

An unusually sharp attack was made by ho enemy on Blair's approaches this morning, but without effect.

The rebels yesterday threw over into Blair's trenches a copy of the Vicksburg Whig, of Saturday, printed on wall paper. It admitted that the cannonading on that morning did much damage among the women and children.

Gen. McArthur's works are being pushed steadily forward. Not an hour, not a minute is lost. This digging is not fortifying but approaching.

Ransom's men have gone forward a rod to-day, amid a concentrated fire from the rebel sharpshooters, while a tengun fort, just being completed, dug during the week, will probably open fire on the rebels to morrow. This fort is in a horizontal line ahead of all other works. Logan's approach has entered the large key fort of the rebds, piercing nearly to the inner base of their entrenchments, and two 30 pound Parrotts have been planted upon the rebel entranchments, just under the crest this side, and are doing fearful execution. The rebels also have sewers and pitfalls covering the ways by which our troops must approach the city He says they have provisions to last from ten to fifteen days longer, and plenty of ammunition with the exception of caps, and have lately been casting ordnance. According to his story, and our officers are disposed to believe it, it is a moral impossibility for Vicksburg to hold out over a ortnight longer.

There is a general feeling this morning along the lines among intelligent and influential officers, that though an immediate crisis is not as probable as on Saturday, yet that Vicksburg will be ours before the 4th of July. Ho one is willing to put it off a day beyond that time.

Hooker has issued the following farewell

In conformity with orders from the war lepartment, dated June 27th, I relinquish the command of the Army of the Potomac. It is transferred to Major General George Meade, a brave and accomplished officer, who has nobly earned the confidence and fields. Impressed with the belief that my nsefulness as the commander of the Army of the Potomac is impaired I part from it. yet not without the deepest emotions. My sorrow at parting with comrades of so many battles is relieved by the conviction that the courage and devotion of this army will never cease nor fail, that it will yield to a new successor as it has to me, a hearty ments; possibly Lee may contemplate the and willing support. With earnest prayers that the triumph of its arms may bring success worthy of it and the nation, I bid it farewell. JOSEPH HOOKER, Sigued

This was followed by an address from Gen. Meade.

GEN. MEADE'S ADDRESS. HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, June 28, 1803.

By direction of the President of the United States, I hereby assume the command of the army of the Peternac. As a soldier, in obeying this order an order pose. The city no doubt will soon be totally unexpected and unsolicited-1 have no promises or pledges to make. The country looks to the army to relieve it from the devastation and diagrace of a hostile invasion. Whatever fatigues and sacrifices we may be called upon to undergo, let us have states that a train had arrived from the in view constantly the magnitude of the interests involved, and let each man determine to do his duty, leaving to an All-Controlling Providence the decision of the complished soldier, whose name must ever appear conspicuous in the history of its No apprehension is felt for the Baltimore achievements, but I rely upon the hearty and Washington railroad. It is strongly support of my comrades in arms to assist me in the discharge of the duties of the mington and Haltimore road. Gunboats important trust confided to me.

Gen. Resecrans Advancing.

Gen. Rosecrans has made a brilliant movement forward towards the rebel stronghold. His headquarters are at Manchester, thirty five miles east of Tullahoma. It looks more like flanking Bragg than attacking him in his fortified position.

Fort Hudson,

The reported capture of Port Hudson has not been confirmed to-day. It is probably untrue. If, as reported, Com. Farragut had communicated the intelligence to Gen. Grant, it would have been given to the public officially, before this time.

The Rebel Invasion,

There is very little light to-day upon military movements in Pennsylvania and Maryland. It is thought by some that a battle is imminent at Harrisburg. Others are of the opinion that the rebels are withdrawing in the direction of Baltimore. This is not improbable. They must develope their designs very soon. They have made a bold and desperate movement, and will not lag in its execution if they hope for any success; to back out now, would be sure destruction, if there is any vigor displayed on our part. The great battle will be fought in Maryland.

The New Commander,

Notwithstanding Gen. Meade, the new commander on the Potomac, is unknown to the country generally, he is reputed to have a creditable history. Previous to his recent promotion he has been in command of the 5th army corps, and was in command under Burnside and Hooker at both the unsuccessful attempts that have been made to capture Fredericksburg. The Chicago Journal says:

George C. Meade is a Spaniard by na tivity, but an American by education. He was born in Spain in 1816, and is therefore 47 years of age. He is a military man by profession. He entered the military academy at West Point, from the District of Columbia, and graduated in 1835; standing 19 in his class, and was especially meritorious in artillery. After graduating, he was appointed a second lieutenant in the third regular artillers, which commission he resigned in 1836; was subsequently appointed second lieutenant in the topograph. cal engineers. He served through the Mexican war, and was breveted first lientenant for gallantry at Montery, in August, 1846; became first lieutenant of the regulars in 1851; was promoted captain in 1856, and had command of the western lake survey at the time the rebellion broke out, being then stationed at Detroit. He was transferred to the army, and in June, 1862, was promoted to major, and in the August following was commissioned a brigadier general of volunteers, and assigned to the command of a brigade in McCall's division of Pennsylvania reserves in the army of the Potomac. Subsequently he took command of a division in Reynold's army corps. He was severely wounded at the battie of White Oak Swamp, on the Virginia Peninsula, June 30th, 1862. For his great gallantry, he was then promoted a major general, and on his recovering from his wound, was assigned to the com-mand of the 5th army corps of the army of the Potomac, which position he has filled with great efficiency, as he had all the positions he had held previ-Ously.

It is noticeable that the McClellan papers are satisfied with his appointment, and that the army of the Potomac, (that is the officers,) have confidence in him. We hope he may prove competent and energetic, ior never did an army stand more in need of such a leader.

There has been a general onslaught upon Milroy for his defeat at Winchester, by military stay-at home critics. It appears that his 7,000 troops were attacked by an overwhelming force of 40,000, that he fought bravely as long as there was hope, and only erred in not retreating sooner. Sarely Gen. Milroy is not to be blamed for not knowing that Ewel' had left the Rappahannock for the Shenandoah valley with an overwhelming force, nor for the want of necessary support in his rear. Somebody ought to have warned him from Wash. ington of his danger, since the only means of knowing it was there, and he was in telegraphic communication with the war department. It is quite probable that the blander was not Milroy's, but he has been made the scape goat of other men's inefficiencies. Time will show who is respon-

PEMBERTON'S SCHEME TO ESCAPE.—The Usicage Journal says that on Monday, the 22d inst., three federal prisoners escaped from Vicksburg. They reported that Pemberton was constructing small boats, several hundred of which were finished. Une of the escaped prisoners heard an officer say that cars for 600 boats would be ready not the common principles of humanity in hy Sunday night. As if to more fully confirm what appeared to be already a certainty, large bodies of Kirby Smith's rebel cavalry were seen hovering about, across the river, in front of Vicksburg. It appeared then, that Pemberton was intending to es. or of what benefit will be his memory? cape across the river in small boats, where He will die in debt to his country-a bankhe would be joined and protected by the rupt to its free institutions. zebel cavalry. General Grant instantly blocked the game. He ordered Mower's brigade, supported by Taylor's Chicago

Battery and the 19th Illinois cavalry, to move from Young's Point and occupy the neck of land in front of the doorned city. This movement was executed on Tuesday morning. At the same time the gunboats above and below were ordered to close in nearer and remain there, so that escape by that method became an impossibility.

Soldiers' Aid Society in Richmond, Wisconsin.

Messra. Editors: -- We are not in the habit of often introducing the name of our town in public print; or of intruding every little act of our people to the public gaze; ing in this town, for the purpose of raising means to purchase sanitary supplies for the soldiers, in which Johnstown comes in for about an equal share of the credit of the occasion, I thought I would give a short cecount of the doings of the Soldiers' Aid Society in this town, since its foundation on the 9th day of January, last, and we hope the good people of Johnstown will speak for themselves, and if they have done more than the people of this town, so much the better for the good cause; but we do not like to see the credit which belongs to us, given publicly to others, neither do we ourselves want that which belongs to them. On referring to the subscription paper I find that our friends from Johnstown contributed five dollars of the one hundred and twenty three received that day. There were but few present from that town, but those few gave Rherally. They came on invitation from the aid society of this town, and I believe that five out of six of those had not the least idea of claiming any undue credit. But I am wandering from the account of our society which I prosposed

At the first meeting of the society there was contributed thirty-five dollars, which was increased by contributions made at the weekly meetings during the winter to one hundred and twenty-seven dollars; from the proceeds of which we purchased material to fill two boxes, contributing the following articles: Sixteen quilts; twentytwo sheets; fifty-one pillows; forty-one pillow-cases; four bed-ticks; seven bedgowns; forty-six sheets; nine undershirts; sixteen pairs of drawers; thirty pair of socks; thirty-two towels; forty-two pocket hankerchiefs; twelve cushions; ten night-caps; one pair of slippers; twentyone rolls bandages; fifty-one pounds dried fruit; eight pounds butter; eight pounds dried aweet corn; one pound tea.

The society then remained inactive a few weeks, but soon the hard fought britles of Gen. Grant, in marching to the rear of Vicksburg, and the repeated calls of the sanitary commission, told us that our fath. ers, sons, husbands and brothers lay wounded and dring on the field of battle, that they were in need of sanitary supplies, that the sanitary commission had emptied their ware houses to supply the immediate wants of the wounded.

That we might continue to render aid to the suffering soldier, the president called a meeting of the society at the house of Mr. Arnold on the seventeenth day of June. The day was an auspicious one, being just warm enough to be comfortable out of doors, the sun being obscured by a thin haze,-a regular picnic day. The gather ing consisted of about one hundred and forty persons. A few of the more patriotic people of Johnstown and Darien cheered us by their presence and their contributions.

grove near the house, which was enjoyed all present, the black as well as the white, those who have spent the most of their lives in slavery, as well as those who were born free.

After the repast was finished, the meet ing was addressed by Rev. Daniel Smith of this town, Rev. Mr. Warner of Johnstown, and by a colored gentleman, recently from Tennessee, who seems to enjoy and appreciate the blessings of freedom, which until recently he has never known by experience. We were also enlivened by the singing of several patrictic and other songs, accompanied by the sweet tones of the melodcon.

The cash donations received that day, (one hundred and twenty-three dollars,) with those previously received, make two hundred and fifty dollars, in less than six months.

We returned to our homes feeling that we had been well paid for what we had giv- Ham's hatteries. The battle ended with en, and that the receipts were a clear gain for the cause.

Although the people of this town feel lar, there are some, I am sorry to say, who, although abundantly able, seem to be void of any feeling of humanity; who will not lift a fiager, or give a dime to alleviate the sufferings of the wounded, sick and the enemy escaped. They threw away evmarked, and let the mark be this: There is a man in circums;ances of ease and comfort, enjoying the blessings of a free and independent government; of an onlight five points, a heavy cross fire on our posiened and christian country; who knows tion, but were soon silenced by Loomis', Church's and Herris' batteries. Last Night's Report.

REAR OF VICESBURG, June 23, via Calve, June 29. Special to Chicago Journal.—The indications are that the great struggle is at hand. Skirmishing has occurred along our rear and front every day and night since my last.

The 4th Iows cavalry, day before yester-day, had a severe skirmish with rebel cavlittle act of our people to the public gaze; alry, near Bridgeport Ferry. They held their ground, although attacked by superiof last week, mentioning a social gather. or numbers. Night before last a picket of some three hundred was cut off and captured by the rebels near Bear Creek, seven miles from Snyder's Bluff.

Last night the rebels made a sortic on the left, and were repulsed with heavy loss.

The firs, this morning, is very heavy. The rebel mine in the ground over which we were expected to charge, and which we now hold, has been dug up. The rebels are believed to have constructed an inner line of works, and prepared a space between the outer and inner lines with pit-falls and mines. Our approaches move steadily and 4 2. M.—The rebels have attacked and a battle is in progress at the Big Black. June 24.—Night before last a rebel pick et of thirty-three men, of a Georgia regi-ment, was captured above Snyder's Bluff. The gues of the Cincinnati have been removed and put in a battery on land. The battery opened this morning. There has been heavy firing along the line all night, and this forenoon. Two companies of a Tennessee regiment deserted the reb els last night.

A dispatch from Farragut announces the surrender, yesterday morning, of Port Hudson, with the garrison and armament, stores and all. No details.

The battle at the Big Black yesterday was severe. The enemy attacked with great spirit and obstinacy. Osterhaus received the assault, and repulsed them with great slaughter. His loss was compara-tively light. I cannot get details to-day. All quiet on the rear and front this morn

Be cautious of Cairo and Memphis news. Cairo is proverbially unreliable. Memphis correspondents are notoriously secesh. Jano 24th, 2 p. m.—The rebels last night, soon after ten o'clock, made a sortie on the front of J. E. Smith's division, Ord's army corps. They evidently intended to break through, moving in column by companies, and making most desperate assaults. They were driven back, with considerable less, to their works. A mutiny was reported to have taken place at Vicksburg. It has no confirmation.

This movement was begun on the 24th,

The fight lasted four hours. The rebels had seven gons disabled by Lilly's and night. Special to the Tribune. - I have just reurued from a tour of inspection along herman and McPherson's front. Shernan is still creeping up to the left. Blair's ivision is sapping it at three points. Gen. Giles Smith is on the left, Gen. Ewing in ront, and Gen. Lightburn on the right. In each of these approaches, the same breastworks serve for the rebels and for as. Gen. Brockland, of Tuttle's division, is also approaching very near.

An unusually sharp attack was made by the enemy on Blair's approaches this morning, but without effect.

The rebels yesterday threw over into Blair's trenches a copy of the Vickeburg Whig, of Saturday, printed on wall paper. It admitted that the cannonading on that merning did much damage among the women and children.

Gen. McArthur's works are being pushed steadily forward. Not an hour, not a min-ute is lost. This digging is not fortifying but approaching.

This fort is in a horizontal line ahead of all other works. Logan's approach has entered the large i ey fort of the reb els, piercing nearly to the inner base of their entreachments, and two 30 pound Parrotts have been planted upon the rebe entrenchments, just under the crest this side, and are doing fearful execution. One last evening silenced a gun of the enemy's which had been annoying Sherman's batte

A rebel sergeant escaped into our lines on Saturday, who proved to be one of the two spies sent into Vicksburg over a year go by Admiral Porter. The other was nung, and this one enlisted, and has served the rebels faithfully up to this time, to avoid the same fate. He has of late had charge of a supping and mining party, and seems well posted in regard to the position of the enemy's works. He says their redoubts and bastions are all undermined, with trains laid ready to be fired the moment we gain possession of them. The rebels also have sewers and pitfalls covering the ways by which our troops must approach the city He says they have provisions to last from ten to fifteen days longer, and plenty of ammunition with the exception of caps and have lately been casting ordnance. According to his story, and our officers are isposed to believe it, it is a moral impossibility for Vicksburg to hold out over a fortnight longer. There is a general feeling this morning along the lines among intelligent and influential officers, that though an immediate crisis is not as probable as on Saturday, yet that Vicksburg will be ones before the 4th of July. No one is willing to put it off a day beyond that time.

PAREWELL ORDER OF GEN. HOOKER. Headquarters Army of the Potomas.) June 28, 13n3.

Hooker has issued the following farewell address:

In conformity with orders from the war department, dated June 27th, I relinquish he command of the Army of the Potomac. It is transferred to Major General George deade, a brave and accomplished officer who has nobly earned the confidence and esteem of the army on many well fought fields. Impressed with the helief that my asefulness as the commander of the Army of the Potomac is impaired I part from it yet not without the despest emotions. My sorrow at parting with comrades of so many hattles is relieved by the conviction that the courage and devotion of this army will never cease nor fail, that it will yield to a new successor as it has to me, a hearty and willing support.

With earnest prayers that the triumph of its arms may bring success worthy of it and the nation, I bid it farewell.

JOSEPH HOOKER, [Sigued] This was followed by an address from Gen. Meade.

GEN, MEADE'S ADDRESS. HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, June 28, 1803.

By direction of the President of the United States, I hereby assume the command of the army of the Potomue. As a soldier, in obeying this order—an order totally unexpected and unsolicited—I have to promises or pledges to make. The country looks to the army to relieve it from the devastation and disgrace of a hostile invasion. Whatever fatigues and sacrifices we may be called upon to undergo, let us have in view constantly the magnitude of the interests involved, and let each man determine to do his duty, leaving to an All-Con-trolling Providence the decision of the contest.

It is with just diffidence that I relieve in command of this army an eminent and accomplished soldier, whose name must ever complished soldier, whose name must ever that way.

[Reported Exclusively for the Daily Gazotta] MORNING DISPATCHES.

MANOGESTER, Tenn., June 28.

The following in the Chattanooga Rebel, as account of the fight on Wednesday: From passengers who came down on the afternoon train, yesterday, we learn that on Wednesday seven brigades of General Rosecrans army attacked the brigades of Gens. Bates and Sidell, holding Hover and Liberty Gaps. Our men fought the enemy until the ammunition was exhausted, when they fell back. Movements indicate a general advance of the enemy's force, which may result in a pitched battle. We regret to learn that among the killed in Bates' brigade was Major Claybrook. Gen, Sidell lost some esteemed officers.

Jackson, June 24.—Twenty Yankees captured a freight train at Brook Haven, to day, burned it and left in the direction of Monticello. Firing at Vicksburg heard at 7 p. m. The Vicksburg Telegraph of loth says the western shores of the Mississippi, from Milliken's Bend to Vicks-burg are full of confederate troops. They hold Richmond and New Carthage. Constant reinforcements from Waychette to Pemberton are received. Troops are supposed to cross over every night.

The Chattanooga Rebel of the 24th, edi-

Tod, who said he had information that the rebels design to enter Ohio within the next month. A committee of persons was appointed to adopt a plan of action to raise rolunicers for home defense.

The Commercial's Central Kentucky dispatch says: Matters on the Cumberland wear a threatening aspect. The cnemy is represented in force at Albany. The rebels numbering fifteen thousand under Pegram and Marshall are preparing to make an advance into Kentucky from Walkers and Comberland Gaps. The advance of this force entered Columbia yesterday. Wonders of Sleer .- In Turkey, if a man fall asleep in the neighborhood of a poppyfield, and the wind blow toward them, he becomes narcotized, and would die, if the country people, who are well acquainted with the circumstances, did not bring him to the next well or stream, and empty pitcher after pitcher of water on his face and body. Dr. Appenhenim, during his residence in Turkey, owed his life to this simple and efficacious treatment. Craves, from whom this anecdote is quoted also reports the case of a gentleman thirty years of age, who, from long continued sleepiness, was reduced to a complete liv ing skeleton, unable to stand on his legs. It was partly owing to a disease, but chief ly to abuse of opium, until at last, mable to pursue his business, he sank into abject poverty and woe. Dr. Ried mentions a riend of his, who whenever anything oc curred to distress him, soon became drow sy and fell asleep. A student at Edinburgh upon hearing suddenly of the unexpected death of a near relative, threw himself on his bed, and almost instantaneously, amid the giare of moonday, sunk into a profound alumber. Another person reading to one of his dearest friends stretched on his deathbed, fell asleep, and with the book still in bed, tell asteep, and with the door suit in his hand, went on reading, utterly unconscious of what he was doing. A woman at Hamadt slept seventeen or eighteen bours a day for fifteen years. Another is recorded to have slept once four days. Dr Macnish mentions a woman who three fourths of her life in sleep; and Dr. Elliotson quotes a case of a young lady who slept for six weeks and recovered, The venerable St. Augustine, of Hippo, prudently divided his hours into three parts eight to be devoted to sleep, eight to meditation, and eight to converse with the world. Maniacs are reported-particularly in the eastern hemisphere—to become furiously vigilant during the fall of the moon, more especially when the deteriori zed rays of its paralized light are permit ted to fall into their apartments: hence the name of lunatics. There certainly is greater proneness to diseasa during sleep than in the waking state, for those who pass the night in the Campagna di Roma inevitably ecome infected with its noxious air; while travelers who go through without stopping escape the missins. Intense cold produces sleep, and those who perish in the annw sleep on till the sleep of death.

AN ANCIENT DEED .-- A most venerable and interesting relic of the olden times is now exhibited in Providence, Rhode Island.

It is the original deed for six hundred and twenty five acres of land on which now stands the city of Philadelphia, executed

by William Penn, to Thomas Vernon,

March 3, 1681, immediately upon the receipt of Penn's patent from King Charles the Second. The justrument is in a remarkably good state of preservation, coneidering its age. It is perfectly legible, the ink having faded from but few words, and in these the obliteration is slight. It is written in the old English chirography prevalent at that period, and to it is fixed Ponn's autograph. The consideration for which this large amount of land (compris-

THE THIRTEENTH REGIMENT .- A letter from the thirteenth, dated the 24th, says that they are well. Col. Lyon is in command of Fort Donelson, Col. Lowe having been appointed to to the command of a brigade of cavalry. A new corps has been organized in the army of the Cumberland, called the reserve corps, under command of Gen. Granger. The 13th and 22d Wisconsin are assigned to that corps. The latter are at Nashville. A company of mounted infantry has been formed in the 13th, the different infantry companies doing duty alternately.

THE RAIN .- The series of timely showers which commenced here about five o' clock Sanday afternoon, commenced in Madison at two o'clock. A snor: distance east of Shopiere, we learn, the rain began at four o'clock and continued unintermittingly until seven the next morning. In a part of the town of La Prairie there was no rain from the showers which passed over this city yesterday afternoon. Notwithstanding the different quantities which fell in different places, all sections seem to have been visited, and it was a most refreshing visitation. The banefit to the growing crops is incalculable. A week more of dry, hot weather would have changed the most promising prospect of saveral years past into a general failure of the crops.

THIRD WISCONSIN CAVALRY .- Dr. J. S. Lane will leave this city on the 7th of July for the 3d Wisconsin cavalry, and will take charge of small packages for its members. 4TH OF JULY .-- We have received an invitation from a committee of Water Witch Engine Co. No. 2, of this city, to be pregent with them on July 4th, and participate in the celebration they propose to have .-many of our citizens, and we have no doubt that many will be present and have a good

It is the best thing in the market. For sale at time. We understand the arrangements for the occasion will be something similar to the proceedings the same company had three years ago, which many of our citizens attended and were highly gratified by the entertainment. The platform back of the engine house is to be covered with thick foliage. Here tables are to be set, capable of accommodating nearly 150 persons, at which will be seated the members of the company and invited guests. One o'clock is the hour for dinner, which will be presided over by one of our prominent citizens. After dinner, the party remaining seated, PHOTOGRAPHIC ALBUMS, toasts and short speeches will be the order Just received and for ealecheaper than ever be fore at SUTHERLIAND'S. of the day.

m; 14dSm P. B. WARNER, Agont. of, the right of the original owner ceases: and be can have no further privileges under the act. To get an absolute title from the land office, the homestead must be occupied four years. This is an important decision.

THE CROPS.—Harvesting can hardly be said to have fairly commenced, although some little wheat has already been cut. The yield will be by far the heaviest known in this section for years, and the quality is not to be excelled.

The prospect for hay is not quite so en-conraging, yet something over half a crop will undoubtedly be realized. Early onts will not amount to much, but with plenty of rain a good crop of late oats may yet be gathered.

Appearances indicate an abundance of fruit of all kinds, especially peaches and apples, the trees in most locations being literally loaded down with fruit, and unless some unforseen accident should occur, we confidently look for an extraordinarily large crop.—Quincy (Ill.) Whig. 20th. An Ancient Deep .- A most venerable and interesting relic of the olden times is now exhibited in Providence, Rhode Island. It is the original deed for six hundred and twenty five acres of land on which now stands the city of Philadelphia, executed by William Penn, to Thomas Vernon, March 3, 1681, immediately upon the re-ceipt of Penn's patent from King Charles the Second. The instrument is in a remarkably good state of preservation, coneidering its age. It is perfectly legible, the ink having faded from but few words, and in these the obliteration is slight. It is written in the old English chirography prevalent at that period, and to it is fixed Pena's autograph. The consideration for which this large amount of land (comprising what is now West Philadelphia) was conveyed, was twelve pounds and i shil-
